FILES INDIVIDUAL MINORITY REPORT

Senator McCumber Attacks Majority Report of Senator Lodge as Selfish, Immoral and Dishonorable

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Sept. 15.—Rejection of all proposed amendments to the German peace treaty and modifications of the recommended "strong" reservations was urged in an individual minority report filed with the Senate today by Senator McCumber, republican of North Dakota, next in rank on the foreign relations committee, to Senator Lodge, senator McCumber did not join in the recent republican majority report, but voted with the democrats on amendments and several reservations. Attacking the majority report of Senator Lodge, Senator McCumber denounced most of the majority amendments as "selfish, immoral and dishonorable" and charged that they sought to "isolate the United States from the rest of the world and abandon our allies." "To the substance of some of the proposed reservations," his report declared, "there can be no serious objection but against the manner in which they are asserted, I do most earnestly protest. They are couched in a defiant, discourteous and overbearing manner, and seem intended to express a spirit that ought to be eliminated from American statesmanship." Criticizing the committee's reservation to Article 10 of the league of Nations covenant, Senator McCumber said it really was "an amendment" "pure and simple," and designed to take the United States entirely out of the League. Special opposition was expressed by Senator McCumber to the proposed amendment to the Shantung provision. By this amendment he said Japan would be kept out of the League by the United States and Shantung probably lost to China.

Campaign Inaugurated to Regain for the Striking Policemen the Places Now Officially Declared to Have Been Lost Because of Desertion From Duty.

WILL TRY TO AVOID GRAVE CONFLICTS

(By Associated Press)
Rome, Sept. 15.—Reinforcements for Captain D'Annunzio's are said to be marching on Fiume, parts of the sixth artillery regiment and the cyclist corps being reported near the city. General Ferrat, commanding the Italian troops on the Armistice line, has been ordered to prevent the forces from joining D'Annunzio. D'Annunzio led forces estimated to number from 2300 to 12,000 men into Fiume last week. Detachments sent from General Robilant, commander of the 6th army corps, to disarm Capt. D'Annunzio's men, have refused to obey orders. This according to a statement made yesterday by Premier Nitti is settled. The Premier added that he was determined to act in a manner that would avoid grave conflicts.

(By Associated Press)
Boston, Sept. 15.—A definite campaign to regain for the striking policemen the places now officially declared to have been lost, because of desertion of duty, was expected to be inaugurated today. The action was expected to depend upon the result of a conference between the union labor leaders and Police Commissioner Curtis. The Commissioner had consented to a meeting on an unofficial basis but the labor men said they hoped to obtain from it an exchange of view which might be made the basis of negotiation. Frank H. McCarthy, New England Organizer of the A. F. of L., who came fresh from a conference from New York with Samuel Gompers, President of the A. F. of L., was expected to advance suggestions from the national leader. The extent to which the A. F. of L. would support the fight of the striking policemen for reinstatement and recognition as a union was in doubt today. Immediate danger of a general strike threatened by the Central Labor Union as its principal weapon in support of the strikers appeared removed by the disposition of labor leaders to move slowly. The fact that the Central Labor Union adjourned last night without calling a meeting in advance of the regular session next Sunday was accepted as an indication that union leaders regarded the fight as a long one in which they would take action only after mature consideration. Restoration of the city to orderly condition has been followed by removal of many of the barricades about store windows and other property because of the looting in the early days of the strike. The number of State Guardsmen on patrol was reduced today but all the troops are still held in the city as emergency reserves. The State troops are likely to be on duty for some time as Commissioner Curtis said he could not hope to build up a new police force in a day and to let down any protective measures would invite a recurrence of lawlessness. The development of the new police force around the nucleus of regulars who remained on duty began today with the appointment of 20 patrolmen. The appointees of war veterans reported for instruction in their duties and it was said at police headquarters that they probably would be placed on patrol within a day or so. The South Boston district, scene of some serious rioting during the early days of the strike, was disturbed again this morning when after the state guardmen were stoned from a roof top, the state soldiers fired several shots in the air. Investigation failed to disclose the persons responsible. Occupants of the upper floor of the house where on a lower floor resides City Councilor McCarthy, said that footsteps were heard on the roof a short time before the attack.

NEWS WRITERS ON A STRIKE AT NEW HAVEN

(By Associated Press)
New Haven, Conn., Sept. 15.—Three afternoon newspapers here today prepared to issue their editions under unusual conditions, a strike of news-writers having gone into effect on these publications following the strike on the Morning Journal-Courier at last midnight. Managing editors and editorial writers who were not members of the newly formed News Writers Equity Association took up duties as city editors and copy readers, while the places of street men were filled by substitutes. The strike followed the refusal of publishers to increase wages of street and desk men. The Equity Association claims that practically all staff and street men on the four dailies are members and had endorsed the proposal to strike in the event of the failure of the publishers to fix a definite scale of compensation. Front readers on the papers did not strike as they are not regarded as part of a news writing staff.

SEVENTEEN UNDESIRABLES MAKE ESCAPE

(By Associated Press)
Salt Lake City, Sept. 15.—Seventeen enemy alien prisoners escaped from the war prison barracks at Ft. Douglas near here early today. Escape was made through a tunnel which extended for 80 feet behind the war inclosure of the compound and was dug six feet below the surface. According to Colonel Bryan, Commandant at the War Prison, nearly all of the escaped prisoners had been interned because they were classed as undesirable.

PROCLAIMS UNION OF FIUME WITH ITALY

(By Associated Press)
Genoa, Sept. 15.—Gabriele D'Annunzio, supported by the forces of Aditi, which accompanied him into Fiume, has proclaimed a union of Fiume with Italy according to advices received by the Serbian press bureau here from Belgrade. Fiume was plunged into anarchy, the advices declare, when the brigade of Italian troops which previously had evacuated the city returned without officers ejected the local authorities and arrested the Italian general Pitaluga.

Individual Responsibility.

In recent years many have come to take the view that drunkenness is a disease and that crime is something for which society is responsible. In other words, there is hardly such a thing as wrong doing for which an individual is responsible. If a man is guilty of drunkenness these people hold the saloon to blame, and if he commits a crime an attempt is made to shoulder the blame upon "society" for failing to surround him with influences which would have prevented him from becoming a criminal.

A prominent newspaper in discussing this subject not long ago took the ground that "it has been the fault, and usually the failure, of our penal system that it persisted in treating crime as an individual matter." The paper said among other things that "a penal system run on the theory that the individual is the responsible party is bad morals and bad business."

But not all have come to view the matter in this light. There are still many good and considerate people who believe there is an individual responsibility for wrong doing, and that those who violate the laws should be held responsible for their acts, and not shielded by the plea that the blame really rests on "society" and "environment."

If society were responsible for the lives and acts of individuals all individuals of a given community should be very nearly alike, but we all know they are not. Sober men have grown up in communities in which the saloon was a conspicuous feature, and wherever an honest man is found it is because he is naturally and intentionally honest, and not because of lack of opportunities to be dishonest. There is an individual responsibility resting upon every man, and if a man is not to be blamed for wrong doing why should another be given credit for living an upright life?

No one disputes that environment has its influence, but it must not be forgotten that the environment of an individual is largely a matter of choice. In every community there is good and evil, wholesome associations and bad associations. In the same communities, passing the same "saloons" and the same gambling dens, boys grow up side by side, some to be clean citizens and straightforward business men, and others to be drunkards, gamblers and thieves. To claim that there is little or no individual responsibility for these differences is an insult to right-living people and a libel upon society.

There is danger of going too far with the theory that "society" is to blame for most of the crimes committed. Many of the most serious crimes are committed by men and women who have had all the advantages that society can offer—a good education, good associates and good opportunities for industrial, business or professional advancement. When people who have had all of these advantages are found in the ranks of embezzlers, murderers and all-round crooks; as they are with painful frequency, it is about time to stop trying to shift the responsibility from their shoulders to the shoulders of "society."

It is proper that civilized society should deal with offenders humanely, yet there should be a firmness in their treatment sufficient to impress upon all that there is such a thing as individual responsibility and that the law will continue to take cognizance thereof.

Will people who are growling about the price of shoes be comforted and quieted by the claim that shoes which sell in this country at $15 a pair bring $30 in London and $40 in Paris? The common understanding is that certain articles of food, shipped from America, can be bought in those cities cheaper than they can be at home.

The special session of the Legislature was short, and it was expected it would be. Yet it was long enough to ratify the suffrage amendment and to provide bonuses for service men which will not suffer by comparison with those paid in other states. The women are feeling better, and the soldiers ought to be.

A large quantity of home-made whiskey was seized at Medford, Mass., a few days ago by federal officers, and at about the same time a nice little stock was unearthed in Manchester. It becomes evident thus early that eternal vigilance is to be the price of bone-dryness.

Asiatics who come to this country for an education will be allowed to work their way through college, but "yellows" trying to squeeze in under the guise of students will find the bars up and wedged in the posts.

Secretary of the Treasury Glass thinks the war debt of France will be paid before that of the United States, and it is quite possible that it may be. The French have had experience in that line of work and know just how to go at it.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

We Have Been in the News
 (From the Boston Herald)
 Not in years has Boston figured so prominently in the headlines of the newspapers of the country as during the week which has just closed. All the New York newspapers have sent special representatives here—some of whose accounts have not been conspicuously accurate—and thru the Associated Press and special dispatches the newspapers of remote parts of the country have kept informed of our doings.

The reason for this is clear: It is not altogether the importance of the catastrophe. As an explosion there have been bigger. As a property loss it would not compare with fires, which get small attention a hundred miles away. It is the principle at stake which has interested the American people. They have wanted to know how we came out in this controversy, and the newspapers have only reflected that desire in what they have published.

Boston Called the Bluff
 Boston is a bad place for anybody to start something that he cannot finish. The restoration of law and order that returned the city last night to its peaceful habit of life proves it. The cowardly gangsters and their hangers-on, who for days and nights had disturbed the life and brought disgrace upon the fair name of this historic city, were quickly cowed by the bayonets of the beloved Guardian who came from all over the Commonwealth and assisted the loyal minority of the Police Force and the volunteers in patrolling the city last night.

The bluff had been called. Law and order had been restored, the heart of America had responded and the city of Boston went to sleep serene and confident in the knowledge that if the American Federation of Labor dared to back the sympathetic strike in this city, martial law would be declared without delay, and that the Army and Navy of the United States would take over the command of the city and such time as the threatened rebellion against the Nation had been put down.

Daylight Saving and Lazy Habits

(From the Boston Traveler)
 The farmers have at least had a bit of amusement from daylight saving to make up for the annoyance it caused them. Reaction of Sunnyside has pictured to himself the Perceles and Montmorencies of the city trying to shake off their lazy habits of lying abed in the morning by the funny little notion of setting the clocks ahead. Temporarily business by act of Congress—that in the way the country could have looked at it. He always had a notion that city folks could get up earlier if they would go to bed earlier. He never expected them to try a simple sleight-of-hand trick with the clock merely to fool themselves into rising an hour earlier.

If the urban inhabitant remembered that he was getting up an hour earlier he would be unable to hear the strains of it. Thus the innumerable rattle figures it out, chuckling to himself among his doleful bustles, fleeced with early dew.

The farmer still holds to that old-fashioned theory that the way to get up in the morning is to get up. Clocks in his opinion, are not intended to mark the time of rising. The first glimmerings of resurgent Sol are the proper signal for the tiller of the soil to jump out of bed and bustle his overalls on. A lusty-tongued rooster serves very well when for any reason Sol is indisposed or doesn't get up early enough to suit the agriculturist. Clocks and watches are merely to catch time by, when the milk has to be shipped to the city or the ruralist himself needs to go there to purchase a suit of clothes.

Yes, the way to get up is to get up. And what to prevent city people from putting all their engagements an hour earlier in the summer by general consent if they want to save that hour of daylight? Of course, it isn't so easy as the clock trick, but, it can be done, and the farmer won't have to be consulted or his habits molested.

Six to One

(From the New York Herald)
 In attempting to explain the provision of the league covenant which gives to the Empire of Great Britain six votes in the Assembly, whereas the United States is to have but one vote, President Wilson adopts the contention of critics that, after all, the so-called "League" is in reality a combination of the representatives of nine Nations which is to rule the world from Geneva. The Assembly—which has been pictured by many ardent supporters of the covenant as constituting the League—he now pictures as "merely a debating body," and he says that the extra votes given to the Empire of Great Britain thru its various sub-sovereignities, which are not nations in the international sense, are merely "debating voices."

That sense to reduce the League proper to the status of a mere debating society and to elevate the Council to the position of the working machinery of a permanent and, as far as the United States is concerned, very entangling alliance.

In view of the President's latest interpretation by the necessity of the covenant are confronted by the necessity of declaring themselves for the flesh of a League or the fowl of an

LYFORD WANTED SOME REAL FIGHTING AND DESERTED THE NAVY

Although not yet 20 years of age, the would war brought quite an experience to Arthur O. Lyford, a high school boy of Concord, now attached to the receiving ship Southern at the Portsmouth navy yard. When the United States entered the war he was a student in the Concord high school and enlisted in the Navy on May 7, 1917. He was sent to the Newport Training Station for a few months and following a short period of training was ordered to sea duty on the U. S. S. Huron at Philadelphia.

Lyford made one trip to France and back and declared on the way back some that he wanted to see some action and get out where the doughboys were plugging away at the Hunns. As soon as he landed in New York, he requested a furlough from the ship at Brooklyn Navy Yard and made a trip to his home in Concord where his parents and friends naturally thought he was on a furlough. He remained at Concord for a few days, long enough to get a civilian rig and told his parents he was going to visit relatives at Abol, Mass., for a few days. He then went directly to Detroit, where he encountered this afternoon passed resolution condemning the action of Commissioner Curtis and offering the police their moral and financial support.

It may be added by way of a further elucidation, however, that there is a covenant, no provision to prevent the five extra "debating voices" of the Empire of Great Britain from attaining the distinction of all membership in the Council, which the President says is the ruling body of the league, Article IV, of the covenant provides:

With the approval of the majority of the Assembly, the Council may name additional members of the league, whose representative shall always be members of the Council; the Council with like approval may increase the number of members of the league to be elected by the Assembly for representation on the Council. At meetings of the Council each member of the league represented on the Council shall have one vote and may have not more than one representative.

Supporters of the covenant declare that to withhold from New Zealand at the prospect of acquiring membership in the Council would be deeply resented by the peoples of those "little sub-sovereignities." Americans are not interested in anybody's resentment so much as they are in the fact that under the covenant, as it stands, the possibility of those sub-sovereignities attaching to membership in the Council is clearly presented.

UNION TOLD THAT POLICE WILL NOT BE REINSTATED

(By Associated Press)

Boston, Sept. 14.—Determination to defend the Sovereignty of the state of Massachusetts today in a telegram to Samuel Gompers president of the American Federation of Labor. The telegram was in reply to one sent the Governor by the labor leader yesterday, asking that he take a broad view of the situation of the police strike.

The Governor told Mr. Gompers that the suggestion of President Wilson that orders concerning the Washington police joining the Union be held in abeyance, pending the labor Conference called by president Wilson in the White House for Oct. 6, did not apply to Boston, as the Washington police remained on duty, while the Boston police deserted their post. Nineteen men of the Boston police, leaders in the union, had been tried and discharged for violation of orders and the remainder who had deserted places had been declared vacant. "I can suggest no authorized relief outside of the courts."

Francis A. McCarthy New England representative of the A. F. and L. who has been advising the Boston police union was in conference with president Gompers in New York last night and today, returning to this city tonight.

The Bartenders Union at their meeting in the Army. He was ordered to report at Camp Meade and later assigned to Company I, 23d Engineers, First Army.

By this time the navy had declared young Lyford a deserter and the regular reward was offered for his arrest by the Navy. A deserter in the Lyford family, who looked for a proud record from the boy, began to worry the parents. The son could not write and believe them, owing to the censorship of mail, which would surely lead to his arrest. In addition to the reported desertion another story reached his home city that he had been murdered and his body found in an alley in New York city.

At the same time young Lyford was doing his bit in France. He went through the Argonne campaign and other famous battles with a good record. He was passed on Sept. 16, 1918, and for several weeks confined to Buss Hospital 26, where the influenza followed his recovery from the gas attack. He was discharged from the Navy at Camp Custer, Battle Creek, Mich., May 19, 1919.

His first move was to clear up the record as a deserter, which still hung over him in the Navy. He came direct to the Portsmouth Navy Yard and surrendered himself to Rear Admiral C. J. Bousch, commandant of the station. Admiral Bousch seeing the boy's excellent record in his discharge from the Army, took the matter up with the Navy Department.

Secretary Daniels, like Rear Admiral Bousch, noted Lyford's army record and informed Rear Admiral Bousch that no court martial proceedings be taken against the young man.

Instead of being a dead man and a deserter, Lyford is a real live gosh who will have honorable discharges, both army and navy. However, he must do six months' duty as a member of the crew of the commandant's barge at the local navy yard before his release. When this period of duty is completed, the secretary of the navy will order his honorable discharge. Young Lyford will then complete his high school term at Concord.

meeting this afternoon passed resolution condemning the action of Commissioner Curtis and offering the police their moral and financial support. More than twenty union locals voted his afternoon on the strike, but the result of their vote was not made public. The ballots were sent to a tabulating committee of the Central Labor Union and they would not tell how they stood. Some of the Locals will not vote until Tuesday and Wednesday.

There were two innovations today in annual hall, where the stirring events of the century have taken place. The state guards have their quarters here and in the forenoon for the benefit of the catholic members of the guard lieut. John W. Culhane, Chaplain of the 10th regiment, celebrated mass. In the afternoon Governor Coolidge addressed the Guard and they were then entertained by a vaudeville show. The day passed without any disorder and the recruiting of the State Guards and the National guards continued briskly. The National Guard which has been nothing more than a paper organization since the return of the 26th, is being reorganized so as to be ready for any emergency.

the shopkeepers were profiteering. According to information reaching American army headquarters a mob, armed with grenades, revolvers and other weapons, attacked in numbers the stores which were known to have charged high prices.

In the interior of Germany margarine has been quoted recently at 6 marks per pound whereas it formerly cost 2.80 marks per pound. This is attributed to the fact that large quantities have lately been bought abroad at higher prices than formerly owing to the low rate of German exchange.

The official rate of exchange for August at army headquarters is two marks, twenty-two pfennigs for one franc, giving the mark a value in American money of a fraction more than six cents.

John H. Rodowick, a chief water-tender, has reported at the local yard today and will be assigned to duty either at the yard reading room or the Army and Navy Home in Portsmouth.

OBITUARY

George W. Hill

Many of the residents of Portsmouth will hear with genuine regret of the death of George W. Hill, one of the best known and most popular of the old-time conductors of the Boston & Maine railroad since 35 years ago when its only line was the single strip between Boston and Portland, but since 1886 proprietor of the Derby House in Boston. He died at the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital Sunday afternoon of a complication of diseases.

Mr. Hill was born at Dover, N. H., Aug. 31, 1819, the son of William H. and Martha (Day) Hill. In early life railroading attracted him, and when not much more than a boy he began "freighting," gradually working up to the best runs and finest passenger trains on the road.

He was entrusted with many special trips at some of the most distinguished men in the United States have travelled in his care. For several summers he ran the little train from Old Orchard Beach to Camp Ellis, and was thus known to thousands of vacationists.

Here, as on his regular "runs," his courtesy and gentleness were proverbial. Thirty-three years ago he went to Boston and has since remained there in the hotel business, his house being one of the old-fashioned landmarks of the now rapidly changing West End. The funeral services will be held there on Wednesday at 11.15.

Mr. Hill married Mary E., daughter of the late Charles H. and Anne Hutchings, former well-known residents of this city. Besides his widow he leaves a son, Harry W. Hill, now living in California; a daughter, Mrs. Fred Lawrence of Cambridge; a brother, Herbert C. Hill of Boston and a grand son, Eugene W. Woodard. He was a member of the Veterans' Association of the old National Laurens and of the St. Paul Commandery, Knights Templar of Dover, N. H.

George G. Plaisted

George G. Plaisted passed away at his home 47 Hill street, Sunday afternoon, aged 55 years.

Mr. Plaisted was employed as American Express Messenger, running between this city and Concord. He was a member of Olive Branch Lodge A. F. and A. M. of Plymouth, N. H. He is survived by a wife, three daughters, Doris, Ruth and Lena and two brothers, Fred Plaisted of East Walpole and Arthur Plaisted of Meredith, N. H.

Funeral services will be held from Buckminster Chapel, 7 Wellington street Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Friends invited. Ashland papers please copy.

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION

The New England Telephone & Telegraph Company having filed with this commission notice of its desire to continue in effect on and after December 1, 1919, its existing rates and charges for exchange and toll service furnished by it throughout New Hampshire, which said rates and charges are those authorized by the Postmaster-General during the period of Federal control over the properties of said company, and are now being continued in effect until said December 1, 1919, under the provisions of an Act of Congress, it is Ordered, that all persons desiring to be heard by this commission with reference to the reasonableness and lawfulness of said rates and charges, and of said proposal to continue the same in effect, the hearing request for hearing thereon, with his commission not later than October 1, 1919, and that said New England Telephone & Telegraph Company give notice of said proposal and of this order concerning the same by causing an attested copy of this order to be printed in each of the daily newspapers in this state of New Hampshire not less than three times, the last publication to be not later than September 27, 1919.

By order of the Public Service Commission this sixth day of September, 1919.

WALTER D. TITMUS, Clerk.

FOUR SAILORS CLOTHES BAGS FLOATING IN SEA

Four sailors' bags and a mattress were seen floating at Long Beach near the Rockport line during the late storm. Two of the bags were brought to the police station. The others could not be reached owing to the undertow.

The bags are those given sailors in the navy. They bear the names of J. N. Curley and E. Hickey. They contained four sailors' blouses, white duck trousers, sweaters, rubber boots, oiled clothing, shoes and the usual outfit of an enlisted man. The names were scrawled on the blouses and on the hem of the trousers' legs.

A letter was found in one of the blouses. It was evidently from a sister to a brother and was addressed to H. H. Miller of the U. S. S. North Dakota. The letter was dated at Mount Joy, Penn. The North Dakota with the Delaware left Rockport harbor Tuesday having been anchored there for the past two months.

The police explain that the bags were those of the sailors coming ashore at the time of the high tide Monday, having been blown into the sea, finally drifted toward the shore.

FROM BULL RING TO THE POLITICAL RING

Manzanilla, Spain, Sept. 11.—"From the bull ring to the political arena" would make a fitting title to the history of the life of Luis Mazzanti, former Governor who has just been appointed Governor of this province by King Alfonso XIII.

When Mazzanti retired from the ring in 1903 he was one of the most famous toreros in Spain. Born in Algeiras in Northern Spain of a well-to-do family, the new Governor was sent to the University of Salamanca where he obtained his degree of Doctor in Law. It was during his university days that after a wager engaged into with some of student companions that he first faced the bull in the arena. He acquitted himself very creditably and the plaudits which he received from the multitude completely turned his head away from dusty law books and stuffy court rooms. His earnings soon eclipsed that of the reigning toreros of the day as he received 5,000 to 7,000 pesetas for each performance. In 1897 he accounted for 125 bulls for an income of 400,000 pesetas.

Since his retirement in 1903, Mazzanti has been prominent in local politics. He is a conservative.

WOMEN RULE IN ALASKA

Juneau, Alaska, Sept. 11.—More men than women are governing affairs on Eskimo inhabited Little Diomed, one of the Diomed Islands that are cut in two by the international boundary line across the Bering Sea between Alaska and Siberia. Women and children do most of the ruling, according to reports reaching the Alaska Territorial Bureau of Publicity here. Before a man can make a purchase he must get his wife's consent. If a mother is living, with a married son or daughter her consent must be obtained. Wealth is estimated in skins and the rich provide for the poor.

Official suicide is provided for. When one of the natives tires of hunting seals and fishing and tramping and desires to end his existence he makes formal application to the governing body for permission to take his life.

Why You Should Buy Coal Now

The price of coal is 75 per cent determined by wages. The wage agreement at the mines continues until April 1, 1920. The Fuel Administration reports that 35 per cent of the mines cannot make any money at the present mine prices. In view of this, how can coal be cheaper this year?

KEARSARGE HOUSE, Portsmouth, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 19.

Office Hours: 9 to 5 P. M.

Never before has such an opportunity been given the sick of this vicinity and if you are ailing, you should not fail to take advantage of it. The sick multitudes crowd his office from morning till night, and at every visit the young, the old, the rich, the poor, all apply to Dr. Grady for relief and cure, as those wishing to see him should remember the Day and Office Hours of his visit, and call early to avoid the crowded last hours.

People living in the country towns all over the state are not waiting; they are coming on every train to this city to be cured by Dr. Grady.

Dr. Grady will positively be at the Kearsarge House, Portsmouth, Friday from 1 o'clock until 5 o'clock in the evening to consult with and examine all cases free.

per about five o'clock and run out to play. Some time after his mother called him and he did not answer. She went to some of the neighbors and nobody had seen the little fellow.

Becoming worried she went down on the wharf in front of the house and saw the child under water a little distance from the wharf. The body was quickly recovered and a message sent to the police station in this city and the Pulmotor was rushed over. In the police wagon, and it was used for some time, but the little fellow failed to respond to treatment.

He had apparently run down on the wharf and had fallen overboard and had not made any outcry, as the houses are close and he would have been heard.

The funeral service will be held from the home on Walker Avenue, Kittery, Tuesday at 10:30. Friends invited.

PORTSMOUTH WINS FROM MANCHESTER

The Intervale Golf Club of Manchester were the guest of the Portsmouth Country Club on Saturday, when the first leg of the Pelree bowl was played. There were twenty from Manchester who played and it was one of the most enjoyable gatherings at the club for a long time.

The Pelree bowl presented by J. Winslow Pelree is to be played for yearly, with the club winning it three times to become the owner of the bowl. The Portsmouth golfers won the first leg, taking thirteen matches out of the twenty. The local course proved a stumbling block with its many traps to the Manchester players and they were all impressed with the fact that it is one of the sportiest in the state and by far the best trapped.

A shore flanner of steam claims, lobster and oysters was served at the club house and when cigars were reached President McDonough called for remarks from Mayor Albert H. H. Mosser (George E. McDonough, A. H. Jenks, L. E. Wyman of the Intervale club, J. Winslow Pelree, W. E. Marvin, P. M. Sloc, and Commander L. J. Berry U. S. N. of the local club.

The Country club golfers were the guest of the Intervale, but a few weeks ago and tried to return the good time they were given at that club.

MUCH DAMAGE AT HAMPTON BEACH BY STORM

The tide at Hampton Beach on Thursday noon was the highest of the season and with the stiff easterly winds, the waves broke upon the walk on the breakwater in front of O'Brien's Sea View hotel, and went high in the air on the breakwater at White Rocks. At this point three garages were entirely by the water, one of them being occupied at the time. The effect of the storm on the beach has caused the cottage owned by M. H. Tatham to be moved to O Street, while cottages owned by J. O. Bellamy, Haverhill, and Mr. Stevens, Amesbury, now located on the river end of White Rocks will have to be moved, and have already been jacked up preparatory to migration. There are many changes in ownership now in process of being recorded. Leland Chase of Somerville has purchased a cottage formerly owned by Atwood Rowe and Atwood Rowe has purchased a cottage from Mr. Quimby, formerly of Haverhill.

The two masted schooner William Tell which was owned by Capt. John Johnson of Hampton sunk at her moorings in Hampton River. She had a most interesting history, being built at Hampton Falls for the coasting trade about one hundred years ago and had the record of taking the first cargo of coal over brought from Philadelphia into the Boston market. On her first trip she was struck by lightning and both masts were destroyed, necessitating new ones, but she did saying a bad beginning makes a good ending proved true for she had a very prosperous career. After retiring from the coal carrying trade she made 53 trips in one year from Hampton to Boston and return, making one round trip each week, a feat regarded as very good at that time. After much service she went down at last and today her bones lie at the bottom of the Hampton river.

George E. McDonough passed Sunday with friends in Rochester.

LIEUT. HEARNE HAS NARROW ESCAPE FROM BEING SHOT

Alonso G. Hearne of Kittery, a Lieutenant in the pay corps of the navy, attached to the First Naval District headquarters at Boston Navy Yard, had a narrow escape from being shot recently while sitting at his desk on the third floor of the building at Charlestown yard. A bullet came through the window, striking by the side of Lieut. Hearne. The naval authorities kept the affair quiet in hopes to find out who fired the shot but have been unsuccessful so far. The shot was fired from some distance.

FIRST JAKY CASE BROUGHT BEFORE THE COURT TODAY

Bottle Did Not Have Required Label With Dealer's Name.

The first case of violation of the Jonathan ginger law was heard in the municipal court today. The defendant was Charles Dinnero, who conducts a grocery store at the corner of Deer and Market street. He was charged with selling the ginger without the required label on the bottle bearing his name.

According to the testimony he offered in court, Dinnero evidently thought his sales were legitimate but the court thought differently. He was ordered to pay a fine of $25 and costs of $4.03.

The jail sentence of 30 days was suspended on the payments of the total, $31.03.

O'ROURKE ONE OF BEST KNOWN MEN IN ATHLETIC WORK

Holder of Many Championships Now a Resident of Portsmouth.

One of the best athletes known to Boston and other cities of this country, is one residing in Portsmouth in the person of "Shamus" O'Rourke who is located at the Atlantic Heights. O'Rourke is known in the athletic world as most any game on the sporting calendar.

He represented the Boston High School at the St. Louis fair when he won the championship in swimming. He was a member of the East Boston AA basket ball team when they won the title of champions of the world from Glenview, N. Y., scoring 140 points in 28 minutes. He played with the Worcester base ball team and was a former member of Holy Cross.

The statement of Dr. Sargent of Harvard five years ago pronounced O'Rourke as one of the most perfect developed men. He is known as one of the best all around men coming from any of the Boston schools.

O'Rourke is very modest in anything concerning his ability and from this fact he has not been in the limelight in sporting matters.

SHOWER GIVEN MISS WILLIGAR

A party of friends of Miss Irene Willigar gave her a miscellaneous shower on Thursday evening at the home of Miss Katherine Dolan in honor of her coming marriage. The time was passed in a social manner, music giving added interest in the occasion. Vocal solos were given by Gertrude Lyons, Mary Galy, Lila Galy, Mary Connell and Margaret Macdonald. Misses Mary Hickey and Katherine Dolan also took part in the program.

Refreshments of sandwiches, assorted cake, candy, ice cream and coffee were served. Miss Willigar received many dainty and useful gifts and expressed much appreciation for the same. Her marriage to Robert Carlson of New York will take place next week.

NOTICE

LARGER RESPONSE STILL NEEDED

A good response is being made to Secretary E. H. Baker of the Chamber of Commerce to the call for 50 or more girls wanted to assist in bringing a new industry to Portsmouth. But still more is needed. If 50 or more girls can be obtained to start with the industry can locate in Portsmouth and a larger number in help would be needed later. The work is stitching on high grade wash dresses and no doubt there are many in this city or suburbs who are well fitted for this work and would take such positions.

NOTICE

FRANK W. KNIGHT SHOE TALKS

SHOES FOR THE GROWING GIRL

We have models designed especially to suit the needs of young girls of the high school age, who want good style and individuality combined with comfort and common sense. These models have all the style of our women's shoes but are built on different lines, especially appropriate. Mothers will like them and so will the girls.

Fall Models

$5.00, $6.00, $7.00

Cretonnes and Curtains—

Effectively used in every room in the house. What a bare appearance a room presents with uncurtained windows; it lacks the cozy-homelike look that one expects in the home.

Our new Fall line of cretonnes and curtains is overflowing with the loveliest things you ever saw—just ready for your selection, and they are not expensive, either, quite within the reach of modest incomes. We will be glad to show them to you.
